Revenge!

The lovers had long tarried at the garden gate. The bulldog was becoming thoroughly aroused to the situation, and already there had fallen upon them with crushing force a realization that they must soon part.

"And is your father—"

The youth in patent leathers spoke huskily, as if his clothing had proved too thin for the chill night air.

"—still opposed to our union?"

"Unalterably, as it seems," sadly answered the maiden.

"And can he not be swayed?"

"I fear me not."

A sneer curled his lips.

"Aha!" he exclaimed, "the die is cast. Your father has thrown down the gauntlet. I will take it up. It is war to the knife. Look!"

He strode through a bed of hollyhocks and stood, cold and dignified, where the moonlight bathed him in a liquid glory.

"Tell your father—"

He was terribly deliberate.

"—from me, a Sanitary Inspector, that he must move that pile of ashes or suffer the consequences."

She would have reasoned with him, but he was obdurate.

Travelers tell us that when the ostrich is pursued it hides its head in the sand, the silly bird appearing to think that if it cannot see its pursuers they cannot see it.

Equally absurd are those medical advisers who prescribe for the symptoms and not the source of a disease. Oftentimes they do this because the patient desires it, unwisely demanding that eruptions or other skin troubles be effaced at once. To do this it is necessary to use poisonous applications, which must sooner or later aggravate the disease or cause it to appear in new and more dangerous form.

There is scarcely a single ill to which flesh is heir but what has its origin in impure blood. Therefore, the only way to cure these troubles is through testimonial as to its value. I have several times in my life been badly

Poisoned With Creeping Ivy, once when a boy and once when in mature life, so badly that I had to have medical treatment. As the old school of medicine simply tried to remove the symptoms instead of trying to remove the source of them, much of the poison was left in my system to appear in an itching humor on my body with every violent exertion in warm weather. At all times there were more or less indications of poison in my blood, up to a year ago last winter, when

Large Sores Broke Out on my body. I then purchased of our druggist, L. N. Hopkins, a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after using that and a half of another bottle, the sores and humor disappeared. I attended the Christian Endeavor Convention in the blood. And the remedy which has proved itself powerful and successful when all other prescriptions and treatment failed, is certainly the safest and surest for you to take.

Read what Rev. Mr. Schnell, a respected pastor of Apalachin, N. Y., has to say about its success in his case:

"Apalachin, N. Y., Aug. 8, 1894.

of the burning and itching sensation which had marred every previous summer's outing. I, therefore, have occasion to be enthusiastic in my praises of Hood's Sarsaparilla." SAMUEL S. SCHNELL, pastor of Free Baptist Church.
